Notorious Gossip

An Irishman employed at the big shipbuilding yard found that most of the disagreeable jobs were left to him, and he was always being told to lift all the heavier weights.
On the eve of a launch, when the huge vessel was standing ready on the stocks for the morrow's great event, the Irishman went to the foreman and demanded his pay.
"What for?" asked his foreman.
"Surely you're not leaving us?"
"Indeed I am," replied Pat.
"Since I've been here I've done some heavy lifting, but"—and he pointed first to the finished ship and then to the barricade on the bank of the river—"I'm hanged if I'm going to lift that thing over the fence to-morrow!"

He had started work on a new job. When the middle of the week came he found himself a little short of money, so he called on the cashier.

"Can I have my week's wages
now?" he asked.

"But you've only been here three days," said the cashier.

"I know," replied the newcomer;
"but if I can trust you for the first half of the week, surely you can trust me for the second?"

"I want some hinges for the end wall of my garage," said the customer.

"That's a funny place to put them," commented the ironmonger.

"I know it is, but my wife can't always stop the car."

A young man entered a large store and said to an assistant:
"Can you help me to select a birthday gift for a wealthy old aunt who is awfully weak and can hardly walk?"

"Yes, sir," replied the assistant brightly. "What about some floor-wax?"

CZECH DEFENCE PROGRAMME

PUBLIC LOAN TO BE ISSUED

(Hong Kong Daily Press' Special)

Prague, May 27.

The law to authorise the issue of a public loan to provide funds for the great rearmament programme will be submitted to the House of Deputies where it will be dealt with as an urgent measure.

Introducing the bill, the Minister of Finance, Dr. Kalous said that in event of war Czechoslovakia would be more dependent than other countries on the efficiency of its defences since the population, in comparison with the frontier to be defended, was small, which meant that the available armies would be relatively small in number.

In any case Czechoslovakia must on no account be less efficiently defended than other states.

KING TO VISIT FRANCE

Tribute To Canadian War Dead

MEMORIAL TO BE UNVEILED

(Hong Kong Daily Press' Special)

Paris, May 27.

King Edward VIII will pay his first visit to France since his accession to the throne on the occasion of the unveiling of a memorial for Canadian war dead at Gilly near the Franco-Belgian frontier on July 28.

A recent portrait of
His Majesty

The President of the French Republic, as well as various members of the Cabinet, delegations of the French and British armies, and a deputation of 6,000 Canadians who fought in the Canadian Expeditionary Corps during the Great War, will attend the ceremony.

Political circles express gratitude that the King will keep the promise made to the Canadian Government before King George's death to attend the ceremony, since it will afford an opportunity to meet the French President.

The King will probably return to England immediately after the ceremony without visiting Paris.

FERRY ACCIDENT FATALITIES

Sad End To Children's Excursion

(Hong Kong Daily Press' Special)

Prague, May 27.

Final reports on the fatal ferry accident on the Thaya River show that the loss of life has been greater than was at first assumed.

Thirty-one children perished.
The details now published describe how the accident happened.

It is stated that 106 children of the Rasovice Secondary School were on an excursion in wagons in the Follauer Hills, and crossed the Thaya River by a ferry. After the first two wagons had gone over and the third was starting, part of the remaining children jumped on the overloaded ferry, which sank.
The river being eight metres deep and the current strong, the children were soon driven down stream.

Through heroic efforts one teacher saved nine and one coachman eight children, but 22 boys and nine girls died.

SIKHS BRAVERY

HOW THEY DEFENDED THE LEGATIONS

Addis Ababa, May 14

The bravery and coolness of the Indian soldiers guarding the British Legation in Addis Ababa during the reign of terror that followed the departure of the Emperor are one of the main topics of conversation among the Europeans who lived through those days.

For days the men of the detachment of Sikhs, commanded by Major Charteris, were to be seen all over the disturbed town, patrolling, rescuing British subjects, and protecting other Legations which it seemed impossible to defend against the raiders who, as the easy loot gave out, formed organised bands to make determined attacks on defended buildings.

On Sunday after the Negus left, for instance, the Sikhs arrived in two armed motor lorries just in the nick of time to save the Turkish Legation. They came in response to an SOS brought by a runner.

When the first armed motor lorry drove up the Sikhs attacking the Legation in the darkness turned their fire on the Sikhs. They did not, however, notice the approach of the other lorry in their rear, and it opened fire on them and drove them off.

Afterwards this patrol visited the Belgian and French Legations, and the French Legation's defenders urged them to stay for the night.

BABY THROWN TO TROOPS

The Sikhs took away the whole of the Turkish Legation's staff, including a baby girl thrown out by her mother in the middle of the shooting and quickly caught by an officer and covered with a waterproof, who was using his other hand to shoot.

Mohammed Ali's Indian store, situated in the worst quarter of the rioting, was successfully defended by 17 assistants, who were supplied with munitions and machine guns by the Sikhs. The store and warehouse were continually under fire, but the assistants fought off successive organised attacks.

The Sikhs biggest battle was to save the Belgian Legation on Monday. They left their lorries and deployed through the wood and, making a slow advance through the darkness, fired with machine-guns to cover their rear.

One Sikh had both sights shot off his rifle.

The biggest moment was when a telegram arrived from King Edward and another from the Foreign Minister. These telegrams were read with due ceremony by the Minister from the British Legation steps to the Sikhs. The Minister congratulated them on work worthy of the best traditions of the Indian Army.

WOMAN ASSAULTED

Another aspect of the brigandage that prevailed in the town before the entry of the Italian troops was described to me by Miss Eleanor Meade, a young American journalist, the correspondent of Transradio, whom I found in the ruins of her looted home.

She had been vainly searching neighbouring tukuls (Abyssinian huts) looking for her stolen property. She wore a man's blue trousers, white shirt, and socks, and her features were marred by a huge piece of sticking plaster covering her nose.

"That's where a Shifta socked me on Saturday morning," she said. "The shooting began and my front door was smashed in, so I slipped under my bed."

"A man and a woman forced their way into my room collecting my things together to take away. Finally I crept out from the bed and the man thereupon punched me with a straight swing on the nose."

"His wife, however, luckily stopped him as he was about to attack me again by telling him that the relief car was arriving."

"They allowed me to slip out of the house and I hid again until a car which had been summoned arrived."

"The occupants found me more alive than dead. They took me to the Japanese Legation where my face was dressed."

"I stopped there for four days without being allowed to go out, though they were short of supplies and had not much to eat."

"I am now wondering where I can borrow a dress to look like a normal female again."

HOTEL RECONSTRUCTION SCHEME APPROVED

Shareholders Agree To Reduce Capital

ANNUAL MEETING HELD

Reconstruction of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels Limited was sanctioned by a largely attended meeting of shareholders yesterday. As a result the company's capital will be reduced by the writing off land values, transfer of reserves and the cancelling of capital.

The extraordinary meeting was preceded by the annual general meeting at which the Chairman (Mr. J. H. Taggart) stated that in view of the financial stringency, the year's working had been satisfactory.

HOPES FOR FUTURE

Mr. Taggart said—
The accounts for the financial year 1935, which are under your survey to-day, cover a period within which has been generated many difficulties and disappointments for Hotels operation in the Far East, and particularly has this been marked in the Northern field wherein two of the largest Establishments comprised in your undertaking are located.

No reminder from me is needed to emphasise to you the condition of severe financial stringency which has continuously existed in Shanghai during the period now under review, the repercussive effect of which is reflected in the earnings of your Company in common with other commercial undertakings.

Your Hotels in that Port, although, as you are aware, of an old fashioned type, comparing most unfavourably with the numerous Establishments of modern construction recently erected there, have attracted what can be considered in the circumstances a satisfactory revenue. The advantage, however, of an encouraging ratio of occupancy has been offset by the necessity, compelled by competitive action, to accept cut rates, and this procedure had the result of a negligible contribution only accruing to the General Working Account from those Establishments, after relative overheads had been met.

GOOD H.K. RESULT

Your Hong Kong Establishments fared more favourably I am pleased to say. Indeed, results achieved at most of our Hotels in the Colony during the first and last quarters of the year were highly satisfactory. Unfortunately, however, the Summer season of 1935 again ushered in an era of "doldrums" sufficiently dull to almost eradicate the satisfactory results of the Autumn and Winter trading.

The high value of the local dollar during the Summer of 1935, coupled with the attraction of low currency values at North China and Japan resorts which prevailed vis-a-vis Hong Kong currency had the effect of completely eliminating the Summer tourist patronage customarily received at our Establishments in the Colony during that season.

In view of the foregoing, I regret that the Profit and Loss Account before you delineates poor working results substantially below those attained during previous years, notwithstanding the fact that the items of contra charge were reduced to the lowest limit compatible with prudent and efficient operation. The main item of credit—"Balance of Working Account"—$430,375.55, falls below the similar credit for the previous year by some $270,000.00. The item "Rents of Shops and Offices" similarly reveals a considerable decrease of some $38,000.00—vacancies, and reductions made to tenants on rentals, enforced this diminution.

INVESTMENT DIVIDEND

A welcome re-entry to the credit of Profit and Loss Account this year is the item "Dividend on Investment" $13,887.48. This relates to the dividend distribution of our subsidiary Company, the Grand Hotel des Wagons-Lits, Ltd., on a holding of 5,651 Shares in that Company.

The last issued Balance Sheet of the subsidiary Company, as at the 30th June, 1935, is attached to the Report and Accounts before you, in which relation I am pleased to be able to state that the Hotel in Peking operated by the subsidiary Company enjoyed much improved revenue during its last accounting period, and that the current revenue returns received here from Peking continue to present satisfactory figures.

With the exception of the charge in respect of "Bad and Doubtful Debts Written Off" items to the debit of the Profit and Loss Account are all on a much reduced level in comparison with those embodied in the Accounts for the previous year. It is regretted that the excepted item referred to displays a serious increase over amounts provided for such a contingency over the past few years. It is, however, difficult to obtain prompt settlement of accounts in these times.

BAD DEBTS

I should point out that in assessing the amount of the provision in question it was deemed prudent to maintain our standard basis by excluding from schedules of debts for incorporation in the Balance Sheet all transactions ante dated twelve months prior to the closing of the books. It is confidently anticipated that a substantial proportion of the items provided for will eventually be recovered, and I can state that satisfactory headway in that direction has already been made during the current year.

You will observe that depreciation on the Circulating Assets has been written off to the extent of $135,748.37, but depreciation on Buildings and Furniture and Fixtures has not been provided for in view of the Reconstruction proposals to be submitted for your consideration at the Extraordinary General Meeting which immediately follows this Meeting.

Touching upon the Balance Sheet, I submit there is little call for comment, I would mention, however, that between the time of certification by the Auditors and the printing of the Accounts an omission has occurred in relation to the item "Furniture and Fixtures," the words "plus additions" having been omitted. These additions totalled $7,751.35, representing the cost of a consignment of modern electric heaters, together with some new furniture and carpets for Hong Kong Establishments.

PAINTING HOTEL

Turning to the Liabilities side of the Balance Sheet you will see that the Special "Repairs and Renewals Reserve" has suffered depletion during the year by $10,932.41. This relates mainly to special expenditure incurred in painting the whole of the exterior of the Hong Kong Hotel, and to rewiring in connection with the electrical installation of certain of our Establishments in order to conform to the requirements of Government Regulations.

The Balance Sheet reveals one solitary oasis in the midst of what you may consider my somewhat depressing remarks. I refer to the reduction of the Company's Mortgage Indebtedness effected during the year. You will observe that the figure under that heading in the Balance Sheet before you is $289,469.31, which compares favourably with a Mortgage liability of $454,896.83 at the 31st December, 1934.

I feel that the reduction made during the year 1935 of approximately $165,000.00, is gratifying in the circumstances, as also is the fact that the indebtedness of your undertaking has been further reduced since the turn of the year and now stands at the lowest figure on record covering the past fifty years.

RECONSTRUCTION PLAN

I do not consider there are other items in the Balance Sheet and Accounts upon which I can usefully comment. I would, however, crave your attention for a few minutes in relation to the proposals which will come up for your consideration at the Extraordinary General Meeting to be held later to-day with regard to the scheme for Reconstruction of the Balance Sheet of the Company by the utilisation of certain Reserves and by cancelling Capital to the extent of $2.50 per Share.

In my circular letter addressed to Shareholders under date the 27th April last, a copy of which is in your hands, I stated that your Directors had given serious consideration to the present financial position of the Company. This consideration has entailed the earnest deliberations of your Directors over a lengthy period.

During the past few years—in respect of which the trading results have enabled a dividend distribution to Shareholders and also years which have been bare of dividend—considerable sums have been charged in the Profit and Loss Accounts by way of Depreciation on Buildings and Furniture and Furniture and Fixtures. In addition, the resultant position was strengthened by the presence of Reserves substantial in amount, which, with the exception of the Land and Buildings Reserve, had been allocated out of profits in past years. Moreover, it was rightly considered that in view of the book values of the Land owned by the Company as against the Market worth of such Land, a considerable hidden reserve existed, to offset a possible drop in the value of Buildings and their equipment below the residual value thereof appearing from the Book figures.

SHANGHAI SLUMP

However, the experiences of the past two years have wrought a drastic change in that outlook. Particularly is this so in Shanghai where the collapse of some important Land Companies operating on an extensive scale has caused a veritable slump in property values. In the circumstances, your Board considered that remedial steps in relation to the Balance Sheet should be taken immediately.

In addition to the altered situation with regard to property values, a further disadvantage (connected with the revolutionary ideas now attaching to the construction of New Hotels and their equipment) has become so markedly apparent as to call for a new interpretation of "modern accommodation" in relation to the demands of patrons and thus operate to the detriment of older structures. Your Establishments and their equipment, therefore, although constituting assets which have been subjected to depreciation at rates considered sufficient to reduce each unit thereof to a break up value within the period of its effective life, must in the light of modern conditions be regarded as standing in the books at figures far in excess of their actual capitalised value as earning units.

WRITING OFF

As indicated in my circular letter, the aim of the Reconstruction proposals submitted for your consideration is to write down all Assets to figures which represent their real worth as Assets dependent upon their earning capacity.

To achieve this it is proposed to write off from Book values as at December 31, 1935, the amounts scheduled in the circular before you amounting to $8,856,737.34. It is proposed to effect this (1) by writing up the Book values of Land as at December 31, 1935, by $550,080.18; (2) by transferring Reserves as listed in the circular, totalling $5,319,349.14; and (3) by cancelling Capital to the extent of $2.50 per Share, making available on the 1,193,887 Shares issued—$2,984,867.50.

STAPLES SURPRISES

DELICIOUS PRUNE PRESERVE

An excellent way to get the family to eat prunes is to make prune and apple jam.

The ingredients are: 1lb. prunes, 2lb. apples (when peeled), 3 pints of water, 2 lemons, 4lb. loaf sugar. Wash, then soak the prunes in water overnight. Peel, core and slice the apples and cook in a small cupful of water until tender. Mix the fruit with the grated lemon rind, and boil for half an hour. Add the sugar and lemon juice, then boil and stir for twenty minutes, or until a little will set when tested upon a cold plate.

Remove as many stones as possible, pour into pots, and tie down. Store in a cool, dry place.

BREAKFAST PRESERVE

Apple-Ginger makes a delicious change for breakfast. To make it, you need 2lb. apples, 4oz. preserved ginger, two tablespoonfuls of the ginger syrup, the juice and rinds of two lemons, 1 pint water, 1lb. sugar.

Peel, core and slice the apples, tie the peels, rind and cores in a muslin bag and boil all gently until tender. Remove the bag of peels, and the sliced ginger and syrup, lemon juice and sugar. Boil and stir for fifteen to twenty minutes, then pour into pots and tie down.

A LEMON

Add lemon juice to the water in which fish is boiled and it will firm the flesh, whiten the fish, and improve the flavour. Lemon juice will whiten artichokes and rice if added to the water in which they are cooked; it will improve the flavour of all stewed and tinned fruit. The inside of a cut lemon will remove marks from aluminium pans, remove tarnish from brass, and clean and whiten the hands after housework. Fresh iodine stains on white material can be removed if rubbed well with a slice of lemon. Stains on steel cooking knives can be rapidly removed if rubbed with a paste of bathbrick and lemon juice. Marks on tiled hearths should be washed with hot water, rubbed with lemon, and washed off with water. Fine laces and silks can be bleached by adding lemon juice to the water; it does not harm the fabric.

OH! FOR AN ICE

During this hot weather one's mind turns instinctively to ices. The making of ices is one of the simplest operations, given an ice machine.

VANILLA ICE

Half a pound of sugar. Six yolks of eggs. One stick of vanilla. One quart of milk. Put the milk, sugar, and vanilla into a saucepan on the fire. When boiling, pour it on to the yolks that have been beaten in a bowl, mixing them quickly with a wooden spoon. Pour this mixture through a hair sieve and let it cool. Three hours before the ices are to be served, pour this custard into the centre of the ice machine, and surround it with six or eight pounds of rough ice broken into fine pieces, and two pounds of coarse salt. Get the boy to turn the handle for about half an hour, until the ice "sets". Then take it out with a spoon and put it into a mould, cover the mould with buttered paper before affixing the cover, and put the mould into the machine again.

It is easy to know when the ice is "setting," as the handle becomes more and more difficult to turn.

Turn the ice pudding in the mould on to a round dish upon a napkin or a fancy doily.

COFFEE ICE

The same as above only flavouring with a little essence of coffee instead of vanilla.

CHOCOLATE ICE

The same as vanilla ice but instead of vanilla dissolve eight small tablets of plain chocolate in a little water and add to the milk, etc., before passing it through the sieve.

CARROT JAM

An unusual preserve is carrot jam. To each pound of carrot pulp allow 1lb. loaf sugar, the grated rind of one lemon, and the strained juice of two 10 bitter almonds, chopped finely.

Scrape and cook the carrots in as little water as possible, strain, pass the pulp through a hair sieve, then weigh it and put it into a preserving pan. Add the sugar, almonds and lemon rind. Bring to the boil, add the lemon juice and boil and stir for fifteen minutes. Pour into pots and tie down.

HAVE YOU TRIED THIS?

When making egg sandwiches mix the eggs with a few drops of mayonnaise, to give an added piquancy.

Powdered ginger greatly improves the flavour of a boiled apple pudding. It should be served in a castor and sprinkled on each portion at the table.

Prunes are good with roast mutton. Stew them until tender (without sugar) and serve hot with the joint. They make a welcome change from the red currant jelly or gooseberry jam usually served.

SANDWICHES

Slip some cooked haricot beans from their skins and mash them. To every cupful of the paste add a dessertspoonful of grated cheese and a teaspoonful each of butter and chopped parsley. Season with salt, pepper, and lemon juice. Spread this stiff paste thickly between thin slices of toasted bread.

Cover some slices of brown bread first with butter, then with minced seeded raisins. Put two slices together, with a layer of water-like pieces of sharp, juicy apple between. Melt a few bars of plain sweet chocolate in a slow oven, then add to it the same amount of finely chopped walnuts or finely-chopped roasted almonds. Spread the mixture quickly on oatmeal or wheatmeal biscuits, putting two together sandwich fashion.

Give each sandwich its own wrapper of greaseproof paper; this will prevent it from getting dry or crushed.

OBITUARY

Famous Soldier And Banking G.O.M. Dead

London, May 15. Two famous men, Field-Marshal Viscount Allenby and Sir Felix Schuster, Grand Old Man of Banking, died yesterday.

Lord Allenby collapsed and died almost immediately in the study of his Kensington, London, home. He was seventy-five.

His death reduces still further the small group of British war leaders now surviving.

One of the first messages of sympathy received by Lady Allenby was from the King.

Only a week or two ago Lord Allenby was installed as Rector of Edinburgh University and made a strong speech condemning war.

Viscount Allenby won fame in the war for his command of the British troops in Egypt and Palestine.

MOUNTAINEER-FINANCIER Sir Felix Schuster, who had been ill for a considerable time, was eighty-two.

He was a director of the National Provincial Bank and was governor of the Union of London and Smith's Bank, Ltd., from 1895 to 1918.

Sir Felix Schuster's financial knowledge won him a place on more than one Royal Commission.

He began his career in his father's firm of merchants and bankers.

He was a keen mountaineer and was formerly vice-president of the Alpine Club. Sir Felix was one of its oldest members.

His sixty years' association with Zermatt was celebrated in 1933 at a banquet given in his honour.

BOILED BATTER SWEET AND SAVOURY

Served either with roast lamb or mutton, as a second course, with jam or syrup, this is a popular pudding. To make a boiled batter pudding, take 8 tablespoonfuls of flour, a pinch of salt, 2 eggs, 1 pint milk.

Mix the flour and salt well together, make a well in the centre, break in the eggs and, with a wooden spoon, work together until a smooth paste is formed. Add a little more than half of the milk, very gradually, then beat well for several minutes until it is very smooth and creamy. Leave it to stand for one hour, then beat in the remaining milk.

Dip a pudding-cloth into boiling water, place it in a colander, sprinkle it with a little flour, then pour in the batter, and tie the cloth securely but loosely to allow the pudding to swell.

Have ready a saucepan of boiling water with an old plate at the bottom, then drop in the pudding. The plate prevents the pudding from sticking to the pan. Cover the pan with a lid and continue boiling for 1½ hours.

If required, fill up with boiling water, but the pudding will be lighter if the lid is not lifted.

If eaten as a savoury, remember to make a good thick brown gravy to pour over the boiled batter. Jam sauce is usually liked if the pudding is intended for a sweet. It is made by boiling together two tablespoonfuls of jam and two of water, with a teaspoonful of lemon juice until well blended. To make a delicious lemon sauce, boil 1 lb. lump sugar in 1 pint water for five minutes, add a teaspoonful of arrowroot moistened with water, a pinch of salt, and the juice of three lemons. Boil and stir until clear.

SALMON AU GRATIN

This is an interesting way of using tinned salmon. Prepare scallop shells or other individual dishes by buttering them and sprinkling with breadcrumbs. Remove skin and bone from a small tin of salmon and flake the first, then mix it with almost an equal quantity of cooked rice. Pour a teaspoonful of milk over each and sprinkle with a little pepper. Cover with browned crumbs and run a little melted butter over. Put in a hot oven or under the grill for ten minutes. The addition of some skinned, chopped tomato makes variation, and flaked haddock or other fish can be used instead of salmon.

THE WOMAN HAS THE WORST OF IT

Legion Speaker's View Of Unemployment

BEEF AND MUTTON DIET

London, May 1. "In talking of the unemployed we almost invariably think of the man and not the woman, but of the two I think the wife of the unemployed man ought to get the largest share of our sympathy," said Colonel G. R. Crossfield at the conference of the Women's Section of the British Legion in London yesterday.

"She has to feed and clothe her family somehow on the dole, she has to keep her man in good temper—not an easy task—and, what I should think is worst of all, she has her man hanging about the house all day long. Could any woman have a greater trial?"

"When I was young," added Colonel Crossfield, "I was under the impression that you could not be healthy unless you ate beef or mutton at least twice a day. Now we are learning that the only person such a diet benefits is the doctor." (Laughter.)

EGG SAVOURIES

Try egg and ham croquettes for breakfast. They're tasty.

Mix 1lb. minced ham, with two chopped, hard-boiled eggs and a cupful of breadcrumbs. Add salt, pepper and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, bind together with a beaten egg, then form into rounds. Brush over with the remainder of the beaten egg, roll in breadcrumbs then fry a golden brown in hot fat. Drain before serving.

QUICK DISH

Something in a hurry? Here's a quick savoury. Grease a fireproof dish, arrange in it a layer of mashed potatoes, next three halved, hard-boiled eggs, with the fat sides down.

Pour over 1 pint white sauce, add two sliced tomatoes, and grate over some cheese and breadcrumbs.

Garnish with chopped parsley, then brown under the grill for a few minutes. As a savoury supper dish, I can thoroughly recommend poached eggs on sweet corn. Heat the contents of a tin of corn, place on a hot dish, top with poached eggs sprinkled with chopped parsley.

EGG BALLS FOR SOUP

Powder some hard-boiled yolks of egg and season with salt, pepper, and a little finely chopped parsley. Then add sufficient raw yolk to make the mixture into a paste. Roll it into balls the size of marbles and dip the balls into flour. Put them into boiling water and leave till they are set. Drain them and add to the soup before serving.

LEMON RINGS

These are good for afternoon tea, but they should be eaten the same day. Sift six ounces of plain flour into a bowl and rub in two ounces of butter. Add the grated rind of a lemon, a pinch of salt, three ounces of castor sugar, half a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, and half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Add an ounce of currants and an ounce of chopped candied peel. Make into a dough with a beaten egg and the juice of a lemon, adding enough milk if necessary to make it soft but not too sticky to handle. With floured hands make the dough into strips, which should be formed into rings, crescents, and other shapes. Brush each over with milk, sprinkle with castor sugar, and bake in a hot oven for about fifteen minutes.

What is the USE of ADVERTISING

IF

the claims made are proved a fallacy? Would you buy that article a second time? While advertising is a powerful force in educating as to the uses, merits or money saving advantages of a product, the people are the judges when they make their first purchase. "Delivering the goods" is what they demand, and the scrap heap of failures is piled with goods that could not stand the test of public judgment. 'ASPRO' messages are carefully planned to prove what 'ASPRO' can do to alleviate pain and suffering, and the reason of its success throughout the civilised world is simple, because it fulfils all claims made for it. Its purity is its safety, and its quick action the healing service humanity appreciates. 'ASPRO' conforms to the standard of purity laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia (the guiding authority of the Medical Profession), and the 15 uses enumerated below make it an invaluable quick first-aid emergency in every home.

'ASPRO' GIVES QUICK AND SAFE RESULTS

15 PROVED USES

- 1-It relieves Headaches in 5 to 10 minutes.
- 2-It brings Sweet Sleep to the Sleepless.
- 3-It relieves Rheumatism in 10 minutes.
- 4-It will ease the Nerving pains of Neuritis and Neuralgia.
- 5-Take 'ASPRO' to relieve Toothache.
- 6-'ASPRO' taken according to directions will smash up a Cold or 'Flu' attack in 24 hours.
- 7-It brings relief without harming the heart.
- 8-It soothes away Irritability.
- 9-It speedily reduces Temperature.
- 10-The stabbing pains of Sciatica and Lumbago can be hunted out with 'ASPRO'.
- 11-It can be taken at any time in Travel, at Home or at Business—anywhere—everywhere.
- 12-It gives great relief to women when depressed.
- 13-It relieves ill after effects of Alcohol.
- 14-It relieves Dengue and Malaria by reducing the Fever.
- 15-As a Gargle 'ASPRO' is wonderful for Sore Throats and Tonsillitis.

Great Relief After 14 Years' Suffering

2 Thomas St., Lewisham, S.E.13.
28/5/36.
Dear Sirs,
I have been suffering from Rheumatism and Rheumatoid Arthritis for 12 to 14 years. I have taken a course of your 'ASPRO' Tablets—three after each meal—and often, when in pain have taken an extra dose before going to bed.
I obtained very great relief from this treatment; in fact, I do not know how I could have continued to move about without 'ASPRO'. The pain has gradually improved, and now I find I need to take 'ASPRO' only occasionally. I can confidently recommend 'ASPRO' to all sufferers from rheumatism.

HERR HITLER AND THE QUESTIONS

Interview With Ambassador

A GENERAL TALK

Berlin, May 14. The British Ambassador, Sir Eric Phipps, was received by Herr Hitler this morning. Baron von Neurath, the Foreign Minister, was also present.

The interview followed the request made by the Ambassador when he presented the British "questionnaire" last week, and today's conversation is understood to have been of a general and preliminary kind. This evening the impression is confirmed that, whereas full and friendly consideration is being given by the German Government to the British questions, not all can yet be answered; and that the presentation of the German reply may be delayed for some little time.

It would be safe to assume that, with international affairs in a state of flux, Herr Hitler is even less ready than usual to commit himself to any definite course of action in regard to the League of Nations and cognate questions, and especially, perhaps, in regard to the Air Pact. His general view still is that a Western Air Pact is one of the most desirable objectives of European diplomacy and could best be achieved by being discussed entirely on its own merits.

The limitation of air strengths is held to be a separate question. The original Treaty of Locarno was signed without any limitation of armaments, and the precedent is held to be perfectly valid. It is not denied on the German side that parity of strengths in front-line machines might with advantage be arranged between the Locarno Powers; but it is insisted that Germany must be allowed to take independent account of Russian strength.

BRITAIN AND ITALY

But even the negotiation of the Air Pact, it is argued, could not well be conducted at this moment, when the relations between Great Britain and Italy are so strained. The two States are guarantors of the original Locarno Treaty and would stand in something of the same position towards the Air Pact. Here also, therefore, delay is unavoidable. And delay is considered both unavoidable and desirable when it comes to defining the relations of the proposed German non-aggression pacts to the general system of collective security. The utmost scepticism is felt here about the future of the League of Nations in its present form. Germans have long predicted its collapse, and they believe their predictions are about to be fulfilled. Argument upon argument is brought forward just now why, in particular, the system of sanctions should be abolished and why the present sanctions against Italy should be brought to an end. They are said to be injurious to all, even to the non-sanctionist countries, and to hamper progress in economic reconstruction, which is the one sphere in which cooperation is universally desired and educated.

SURPRISE FOR COLLECTORS

Old Masters From Warwick Castle

By A. C. B. CARTER

London, May 15. The Earl of Warwick has prepared a surprise for art collectors. He has sent to Sotheby's, for sale on June 17, a rare array of drawings by the old masters, the existence of which was unsuspected by the experts until a year or two ago. It was always understood that the dispersal at Christie's 40 years ago of the Warwick Castle drawings comprised the whole of them. Then Michelangelo's sketch for a Pieta brought £1400.

But research has revealed a wonderful Rembrandt drawing of Isaac blessing Jacob, and a sheet of his studies. A series, too, of remarkable naval drawings by William van de Velde will be prized by collectors, and the French School is represented by a beautiful work of a woman and child by Boucher "Le Repentir," by Greuze (lent to the French Exhibition some time ago), and sketches by Claude Lorrain.

A head of a girl by Madame Vigée-Le Brun was drawn by the artist originally on the door of a casino at Naples belonging to Sir William Hamilton husband of Emma.

In the Italian section is a brilliant pen-and-ink drawing of a Venetian scene by Guardi. In the English School is a delightful black-and-white chalk study of a lady in a hooded dress and "picture" hat by Gainsborough. Drawings by Reynolds are much rarer, and here is one by the president of the Musee de Comedie.

THE PALESTINE
TROUBLE

ROYAL COMMISSION

London, May 26.
The Dominions Secretary in a Commons answer regarding the disturbances in Palestine said the state of unrest accompanied by sporadic acts of violence still continued. Press reports indicated that the most serious disturbances which had taken place occurred in Gaza yesterday. He was glad to say that order had been restored
there. In addition to other measures the High Commissioner had taken steps to restrict the movements of agitators and strike leaders. Authority was given earlier in the year for increases in the British and in Palestine sections of police and the High Commissioner had recently authorised the enrolment of a number of ex-constables as supernumerary police. As House was aware the military garrison had been substantially reinforced since the outbreak of unrest. Regarding the appointment of a Royal Commission after order had been restored, there was no reason to suppose this would not be generally acceptable. It was not yet possible to make any statement about the terms of reference or the personnel of the commission.

TARIFF
AMENDMENTS EFFECTS

HOW THEY HELP

London, May 26.
In Commons answer regarding the tariff amendments recently discussed in the Australian Parliament, the President of the Board of Trade said that on the basis of the recent import statistics the reductions made affected the United Kingdom trade amounting to £1,500,000. The Commonwealth Government had introduced important proposals relating to the import of cotton and rayon goods, motor cars and some other commodities. While it was not possible to estimate the exact effect of these new proposals on the United Kingdom, exports to Australia he was very glad to say, they included measures, notably those relating to cotton and rayon goods which should prove of substantial benefit to the United Kingdom trade. Mr. Rundman said he shared the hope of the Commonwealth Government that the arrangements would strengthen the trade between the two countries.

SIX LIVES LOST

IN A COLLISION
AT SEA

London, May 26.
Six lives have been lost by drowning in the North Sea as a result of the collision of Aldborough near Flamborough Head on Yorkshire coast between the Hull Traver-ler Pleador of 424 tons and the London steamer San Salvador of 5805 tons which occurred in a dense fog this morning. The Pleador which was returning to Hull from fishing grounds sank in three minutes. San Salvador which was bound for Tyne from South America with a cargo of oil picked up fourteen of the Pleador crew of twenty. The San Salvador was damaged and is taking in water.
She is making for port.

NO DEFLECTION

In Mandate Obligations

London, May 26.
In an address at the Levant Fair
at Tlaviy the High Commissioner, Sir Arthur Wauchop, referred to the "Most regrettable disturbances and the many acts of lawlessness of the last few weeks" and said that "During the past four weeks law abiding citizens of this country under deep provocation have shown restraint" which is highly appreciated by me. This spirit of restraint is admirable in itself and most helpful to the Government.
I again assure you no strike and no acts of violence will cause the Government to deflect from its determination to discharge in full its obligations under the mandate."

LITTLE AMERICA

All the excitement, hardships and daring of Admiral Richard E. Byrd's second Antarctic expedition has been captured by two cameramen who accompanied the expedition and filmed an authentic, breath-taking, visual record of that epoch making trip, entitled "Little America" which closes to-day at the Queen's Theatre.

Working under extremely trying conditions because of the damage done to camera mechanism by the intense cold, John L. Herrmann and Carl O. Petersen, who spent the entire 18 months with Byrd and his men, caught the spirit of adventure that engulfed this memorable trip to the South Pole.

An absorbing drama has been woven into "Little America" which includes the dangerous, thrill packed events that befell this courageous troupe of men who struggled to conquer the polar regions of Antarctica. Beginning with the "Bear of Oakland" struggle through the polar ice, the film pictures the roaring gales, the towering icebergs, the treacherous pack ice and finally the foot high barrier to the entrance of "Little America."

Other thrilling episodes include the crash of their giant Condor plane, valuable scientific discoveries, bottomless canyons, the life in "Dogtown," the underground shelter for their wild dogs who could not stand the extreme cold, the hours of relaxation when conversed via the radio, with loved ones halfway round the world and finally their return to civilization.

"Little America" is grand entertainment, filled with the action comedy and romance that befell this fearless group of adventurers.

"COLLEEN"

Not satisfied with present accomplishments, Dick Powell, the singing actor, is taking lessons in tap dancing. His instructors—he has two—are fellow members of the cast of the Warner Brothers musical comedy "Colleen" which opens to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre. They are Ruby Keeler and Paul Draper, the last named, the famous Broadway dancer imported to Hollywood for his screen debut in the elaborate production.

When Dick was not working in a scene he could invariably be found off stage with either Draper or Miss Keeler or both, endeavouring to master an intricate step.

Dick says he has no intentions of ever demonstrating his terpsichorean talents before the cameras. He's learning to dance for his own amusement," he declared.

"Colleen" is a smashing comedy with music and lyrics by Harry Warren, and Al Dubin. Besides Powell the cast includes Ruby Keeler, Jack Oakie, Joan Blondell, Hugh Herbert, Louise Fazenda and Paul Draper.

"CRIME AND PUNISHMENT"

Hollywood put on its thinking cap, girded its loins, and proceeded to make a boldly intelligent production of one of the most intense stories of modern literature. Columbia, in making a film out of Dostoevsky's novel, "Crime and Punishment," which is showing to-day at the King's and Alhambra Theatres has done the public a service.

Rare judgment was shown in casting the film. Those who are familiar with the classic will know that Edward Arnold is a perfect choice as the canny, subtle yet dominating Police Inspector, and that Peter Lorre cannot be surpassed as the murderer, Raskolnikov.

These two men enact this soul searing tale for all its worth and it's worth plenty.

It is the story of a brilliant young man, a student of the criminal mind, who out of pure desperation, attempts to commit the perfect crime. Possessed of an extraordinary mentality, he believes that he can outwit the blundering police. How he goes about perpetrating the homicide, why he does it, and how he finally defends himself, makes for

"GRIPPIANS" ARE
POPULARHOTEL'S SUCCESSFUL
VENTURE

The Hong Kong Hotel's New Dance Band, the "Grippians," have certainly merited their cordial reception by the Establishment's dancing enthusiasts, their inimitable dispensing of up-to-date scintillating and catchy dance rhythms has caught on as evidenced by the repeated encores nightly which are generously responded to. The musical director engaged by The Hotel's Company, Mr. Arthur Carnello, is an expert musician and a past master in the art of conducting, having gained invaluable experience with Whitley Smith of Shanghai, fame as well as in his extensive travels abroad. As a composer of Dance Music his many attractive numbers are usually interspersed in the nightly selections.

In the Grill Room on Saturday the May 30, there is to be an extension till 2 a.m. and a full night of pleasurable dancing is assured. Bookings for tables are open and it is suggested that early reservations be effected to avoid disappointment.

BRITISH

FAVOURITE BEATEN

St. Andrew's, May 28.
The feature of the second round of the British Amateur Open Golf Championship which concluded to-day was the defeat of the favourite Bobby Locke of South Africa by Morton Dykes (Scotland) by one up.

Another former South African champion, Bernard Wynne was beaten one up by Penning of Oxford. Jack MacLean of Scotland beat John de Forest, winner of the 1932 title by 3 and 2. Rex Hartley, Walker Cup player beat James Stout, another Walker Cupper by 2 and 1.

Other results were:—J. C. Cowley formerly of Rotherham beat John Woolam, ex-English champion one up. Captain Stevens beat Lister Hartley, Walker Cup player 2 and 1.

Other winners included Jim Ferrier, the Australian and former Shanghai boy, and the British Walker Cup players, Tony Torrance, Dr. Tweddell, Leonard Crawley, and Eustace Storey.

Outstanding results in the third round which started to-day were Roger Wethered's defeat of A. Bloomer of Grimsby by 4 and 3, the success of Luis Arana, Spanish champion against K. Patrick of Scotland by 3 and 2, the elimination of J. Black (Wales) by Frank Stryggle of South Africa by one up, and the victory of Hector Thomas, Walker Cupper over James Brock of Scotland by 7 and 5.

VEGETABLE OIL
FACTORYGovernment Scheme
In Shanghai

Nanking, May 27.
For the development in the quality of vegetable oil and the sales of vegetable oil, the Ministry of Industry has decided to establish a vegetable oil refinery with the co-operation of the leading vegetable oil merchants, according to well-informed industrial circles.

The regulations governing the organization of the refinery have been approved by the Executive Yuan in its regular meeting on May 12. According to the regulations, the refinery will be built in Shanghai with a capital of $2,000,000. The Ministry of Industry will subscribe $500,000 of the capital and merchants of Szechuan, Hunan, Chekiang and Kwangsi will subscribe the balance of $1,500,000.

The factory will have a Board of Directors of 17 members, of whom three will be appointed by the Ministry of Industry and one each by the Szechuan, Hunan, Chekiang and Kwangsi Provincial Governments. The remaining nine members will be appointed by the shareholders.

one of the most stirring dramas the screen has yet shown.

Marion Marsh, Tara Erell, Robert Allen, Elizabeth Rison, Douglas Dumbrell, Gene Lockhart and Mrs. Patrick Campbell are all uniformly fine in their supporting roles. It is an exceptionally able cast; but Arnold and Lorre stand out vividly.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Florence Ada
HopkinsWIFE OF PRISON OFFICER

Her many friends in this Colony will learn with the deepest sorrow of the demise which occurred yesterday morning at 3 o'clock of Mrs. Florence Ada Hopkins, wife of Mr. F. A. Hopkins, the Assistant Superintendent of Prisons.

A great favourite among all who enjoyed her friendship, Mrs. Hopkins' passing will be deeply mourned. She was 50 years of age and was taken ill about a week ago with heart trouble.

The deceased lady came here with her husband just over five years ago and during her residence she won much popularity by reason of her genial disposition and her untiring work on behalf of local charities, particularly in connection with the Prison Branch of the Ministering League. Her death will come as a great shock to her numerous friends.

The late Mrs. Hopkins is survived by her husband, a son in England and a daughter who resides in this Colony and to whom the deepest sympathy is felt in their untimely bereavement.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place yesterday evening when a large attendance was present to pay their last respects to the deceased lady.

The remains were interred in the Protestant Cemetery. Rev. H. W. Baines officiated.

The hearse arrived at the Monument followed by deceased's husband and walking on each of his side were Mr. J. W. Franks, the Superintendent of Prisons and Dr. F. Bunje.

A contingent of Indian warders of the local gaols were present and also the whole female prison staff of Victoria Gaol under Matron J. Pearson.

Amongst others who attended were:

Dr. G. H. Thomas, Messrs. H. Barrett (chief warder, Victoria Gaol), J. W. Fitzgerald (chief warder, Leichok Prison), D. E. Wood (hospital supervisor, Victoria Gaol), A. B. MUI TSAI BILL IS OPPOSED

CHINESE VOTE ON SECOND READING FAILS

Objection To Penalty Clause; Amendment Beaten

DEBATE IN LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Despite opposition by the Chinese unofficial members, the Legislative Council yesterday passed the second reading of a bill to amend the Female Domestic Service Ordinance, which deals specifically with mui-tsai prosecutions and imprisonment for breaches.

Government also declined to fall in with Mr. S. W. Tso's suggestion to defer legislation on the question until after the Mui-Tsai Commission had made its report and an amendment moved by Mr. M. K. Lo in the committee stages was defeated. Those who supported the amendment were Messrs. M. K. Lo, S. W. Tso, T. N. Chau and A. T. B. Silva-Netto.

Chinese members stated that they opposed the bill because they considered it unnecessary and that the imprisonment clause would entail great hardship on people not guilty of criminal intent.

POSTPONEMENT IS REFUSED

Miss E. Picton-Turberville, a member of the Mui-Tsai Commission, was present at the Council proceedings.

The Bill was introduced by the Attorney-General who moved the second reading which was seconded by the Colonial Secretary.

Mr. S. W. Tso said:—
I rise to oppose the second reading of this amending bill and in doing so I have the full support of my Chinese colleagues in Council.

In the "objects and reasons" for introducing this bill, the Attorney-General quoted the Straits Settlements Ordinance No. 5 of 1932 and also stated that, in the House of Commons, on February 19 1936, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, while referring to mui-tsai cases in Hong Kong, said "I have looked into the prosecutions and I find there are too many fines. I would like to see imprisonment as a deterrent."

I must point out that the conditions obtaining in and the geographical position of the Straits Settlements are, in many respects, different from those of Hong Kong. For, if there are 1,000 Chinese going to the Straits Settlements in a year, there would be tens of thousands coming to Hong Kong in every year.

It must be remembered that the majority of the Chinese who go to the Straits Settlements go there to seek work or on business. Persons who go there to visit their friends and relatives must necessarily be few in view of the great distance between the Straits Settlements and China and the expense and trouble of travelling, and few would take a mui-tsai along with them on such a visit.

MANY VISITORS

On the other hand, Hong Kong being so near to China, Chinese families are constantly passing through this Colony for transshipment to the North or other parts of China. Many go pay visits to their relatives and friends here, and every day we see thousands of Chinese coming to Hong Kong from Canton, Macao, Wuchow and other districts in the interior.

Many of our visitors are ignorant of the law of Hong Kong so that the imposition of a prison sentence will be directly more against our visitors than against our local residents who know, or must be presumed to know, our law.

To commit a person to prison and stigmatise him or her for life as a "jail bird" for ignorance is, to say the least, a serious matter, and we consider that a fine of $250.00 for contraventions of our Ordinance, other than Section 8, or of any regulations made under such Ordinance should be a sufficiently strong deterrent.

LITTLE CRUELTY

With regard to the opinion expressed by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, we are not in a position to say what was actually in his mind. From our point of view, and from our own knowledge of the cases commonly found in Hong Kong, we would choose to think that the reason why our magistrates have not imposed more imprisonment sentences is not because they do not wish to carry out our law vigorously but rather because there are so few cases of ill-treatment or cruelty to mui-tsai which really justify imprisonment.

I do not know whether the Secretary of State for the Colonies had in his possession copies of the annual reports of the Hong Kong Society for the Protection of Children, but if he had, he would have seen from such reports that there are indeed very few cases of intentional ill-treatment or cruelty to children by the Chinese in the Colony. All cases in their charge are cases of dire poverty.

We are glad indeed and heartily welcome the Mui Tsai Commission who have come here to investigate on the spot our mui-tsai question. The Commission, I understand, is requested to make recommendations for any legislation necessary on the question of female domestic servants and I would ask Your Excellency to defer any legislation touching upon this question until after the Commission has made its report.

For the above reason, I beg to move that the proposed Bill be not read a second time.

MR. T. N. CHAU

Mr. Chau said:—

I am in complete agreement with the views expressed by my senior colleague. Like him, I hold the view that, except for contraventions of Section 6 of the principal Ordinance wherein punishment by imprisonment is already provided for, a maximum fine of $250 would be a sufficient penalty for all other offences.

In the objects and reasons attached to the bill it is stated that "in the House of Commons on February 19 1936, the Secretary of State, referring to mui-tsai cases in Hong Kong, said: 'I have looked into the prosecutions and I find there are too many fines. I would like to see imprisonment as a deterrent.'"

With great respect to the learned Attorney-General, I venture to place on the words imputed to the Secretary of State a different construction. The words "I have looked into the prosecutions" seem to me to bear the implication that the Secretary of State had examined some of the prosecutions made under the Ordinance, and found that where there was the penalty of imprisonment authorised by the Ordinance, the award of the alternative penalty of fines had been too frequent.

If he did mean what the Attorney-General had assumed him to mean, surely he would have expressed himself in some different way.

QUITE ADEQUATE

My Chinese colleagues and I consider the present Ordinance quite adequate, and that the question of imposition of penalties, where the alternatives of fines and imprisonment are authorised, may well be left to the discretion of our competent Magistrates.

I may say that for ill-treatment or cruelty I am in favour of severe penalties, and I have no objection to even increasing the maximum penalty provided in Section 6.

With a due sense of my responsibilities, I am opposed to the Bill, not only because there has been an undue haste in the proposed legislation as a result of a remark reported to have been made by the Secretary of State, which in my opinion has been misinterpreted, but also on the ground that the proposed Bill is unnecessary, and, if it becomes law, may entail great hardship on many people not guilty of criminal act or intent.

THE HON. MR. M. K. LO

Your Excellency:

In rising in support of my Senior Colleague, I crave leave to set out my reasons for opposing the second reading of this Bill. At the outset I should like to state that if the Motion for the second reading of this Bill is passed, I will propose a certain amendment in the Committee stage.

I am of course aware that the effect of the amendment is not that imprisonment should be awarded for every breach of the Ordinance or of the regulations made thereunder, but that the magistrate is merely given a discretion to impose a prison sentence in a case in which he finds it desirable to do so. But my objection to the Bill is based on two main grounds:—

First, that no case has been made out for the proposed amendment, and

Secondly, that in the Colony, the value of avoiding sending a first offender to jail is so obviously inadequately appreciated, and the powers conferred on magistrates for dealing with first offenders are so deficient, that I do foresee grave risk of the power of imprisonment being improperly exercised.

I propose to deal shortly with my latter point first. Anyone who is at all familiar with the literature on the subject cannot but be impressed with the valuable work achieved in England in saving men and women from becoming criminals by not sending them to prison for a first offence, except in very special circumstances.

I should like to quote rather extensively from an address by Lord Hewart, Lord Chief Justice of England, to the International Prison Congress in London in October, 1925. Dealing with the object of punishment Lord Hewart makes the following remarks:—

We are to look to the common safety, to the security of all, and to making less likely the doing of similar wrongs in other cases. Yes, but a very little reflection shows that this is essentially a task of discrimination. As there are great differences between one offence

The Book figures relating to Land have been adjusted so as to bring Land valuations to amounts which in the opinion of your Board conform more nearly to present day values, having regard to location and to potential earning capacity. The net result is an increase in the Book value of Land by $550,980.16.

I should state that the scheme I have referred to bears the recommendation of your Board by a majority of five to two. The dissentient Directors hold the view that the complete writing off of all Reserves appearing in the Balance Sheet would in present circumstances be sufficient, and/or that the Capital should not be reduced before the Reserves were first eliminated.

LAND RESERVE

In substantiating the opinion of the majority of the Directors as embodied in the scheme for your consideration, I submit that it is an absolute necessity that certain Reserves should be maintained and in this relation would point out in the first place that the scheme calls for the retention of $550,000 as a Land Reserve, which sum represents the accretion in amount of the new computation for Land Values, in the adjusted Balance Sheet over the old Balance Sheet figures, and which it is considered should be retained to be held in Reserve against possible losses on realisation of any of the properties.

Secondly, I would point out that it is desired to retain $450,000 as a General Reserve to provide realisation against the contingency of any periods of adverse trading which is considered a necessary and reasonable precaution.

You will observe from the Summary shewing the amounts to be written off Assets under the Reconstruction proposals, that the items earmarked for drastic reduction are Buildings, Furniture and Fittings, Machinery and Plant, Linen, Crockery and Glassware.

The main application of these appropriations has been directed to the Buildings and Equipment of the Palace and Astor House Hotels, Shanghai, the Peak Hotel, Hong Kong, and in a minor degree to the Hong Kong Hotel. You will appreciate that "obsolescence" has made inroads into the value of these properties to an extent in excess of the amount of depreciation provided on them over the past few years. It is for this reason also that the reduction on the item "Investments" is called for in order to make similar provision in respect of the Grand Hotel des Wagons-Lits, Peking.

HOTEL AT SHAMEN

The item "Construction in Progress" which is eliminated under the Scheme represents mainly expenditure on plans, site levelling, etc., in connection with the Hotel on the Shamien it was proposed to construct some years ago.

In the opinion of your Directors the effect of their proposals as dealt with in my preceding remarks is to present a Reconstructed Balance Sheet presenting a true perspective of the position of the Company in the light of the abnormal times through which we are passing. Considerable future saving in depreciation will be effected if you adopt and sanction these proposals, and as a result thereof the Company should return to a dividend paying basis much earlier than would otherwise be the case. Moreover, your Company will be placed in a more mobile position to embark upon disposal and/or reconstruction and development of certain Assets.

Reverting to the business for this meeting, I now formally propose that the Report of the Directors and the Accounts for the financial year ended December 31, 1935, as presented, be adopted, and that, as recommended by your Directors the Balance at credit of the Profit and Loss Account, amounting to $342,001.65 be carried forward to next year's Account, and I shall be obliged if some Shareholder will kindly second such proposal, whereupon questions as to the Report and Accounts may be raised.

SECONDER'S SPEECH

Mr. F. Austin said:—
In rising to second the motion I feel that I can safely put it as the general opinion of this meeting, that we much appreciate the very full information given in the address just delivered.

We know that it has been the unpleasant duty of many chairmen who have presided at annual meetings of our local companies in recent months, to emphasize the financial stringency of these times, and the difficulties met with in consequence. All things considered, I feel there is cause for congratulation that this company has weathered the difficulties of the year 1935 so well.

It seems to me also that considerable satisfaction can be derived from the substantial reduction of over $165,000 effected during the past year in the company's mortgage indebtedness.

If I may be permitted to refer to the reconstruction scheme which the directors submit for our consideration to-day, I would say that on first hearing of these proposals my views were that it would be preferable merely to appropriate the reserves now standing in the balance sheet, for the purpose of writing down the value of the company's fixed assets, without touching the capital.

PROMISE HELD

I put these views before our chairman who very kindly gave me fuller details, upon which the reconstruction scheme was based. After giving careful consideration to this fuller information, I am satisfied that the proposals to be put before you to-day hold the promise of a much better solution of the company's present difficulties. I trust that the special resolution to be put at the next meeting, providing for the capital cancellation involved in the scheme, will receive your approval. It appears to me that the directors are advocating wise measures, and making a worthy attempt to get down to bedrock. It must be recognised that conditions have changed very rapidly during the last few years, and that, due to many special causes, there has been a relatively rapid depreciation of the company's Assets, making it impossible to obtain a fair return upon their existing book values. If the suggested reorganization be adopted, the adjusted balance-sheet will present these assets in a truer perspective, having due regard to their earning capacity.

The present cash position is a strong one, and the reconstruction proposed, given only fair trading conditions in the near future, should bring the time nearer when the company, we hope, may be placed again upon a dividend paying basis.

I have much pleasure in seconding your proposal that the report of the directors, and the accounts for the financial year ended December 31 1935, as presented, be adopted, and that the balance at credit of profit and loss account amounting to $342,001.65 be carried forward to next year's accounts. The adoption as proposed was carried unanimously.

MR. W. H. BELL

Mr. Taggart said:—
The next business as noted in the agenda for this meeting will not come up for your decision to-day.

Since the issue of the convening notices your Board have with much regret received a notification from the Hon. Mr. W. H. Bell to the effect that he does not desire to stand for re-election as a Director. I take this opportunity of conveying to the Hon. Mr. W. H. Bell his thanks and appreciation of his colleagues in respect of his valuable assistance rendered to the Board covering a period of five years association.

In the interests of economy it is not proposed to fill the vacancy arising, but to administer the Company's affairs with a Board reduced to six Members.

Mr. J. Scott Harston said:—
I also would like to express deep regret at the departure of the Hon. Mr. W. H. Bell from the Board of this Company.

My relations with him have always been of the friendliest nature. His business acumen is so well and widely known that like good wine it needs no bush.

Among the outstanding traits in Mr. Bell's character are his honesty of purpose and his courage in at all times upholding his convictions, coupled with his never failing courtesy.

MARRIAGE BY SLOT-MACHINE

It will not add to the ease with which married people will regain their tempers after sharp differences to know that they are only linked as they are because the West is so far behind the East in the crucial matter of applied mechanical inventions. "Had there only been slot-machines in our callow twenties" will be the bitter, and perhaps spoken, thought of the angrily married in their quarrels, and great will be the disgust they will feel that the objects that can be obtained from our automatic slots are nothing to husbands and wives. Much better off is the modern citizen of Japan, who has merely to insert his yen and the slot-machine gives him a list of names and addresses of people of the other sex who may be approached with honourable proposals. New names and addresses are put into the machine every day.

The machine is pretty sure to be installed here and in the United States. People will not go on indefinitely taking the trouble they still do take about whom they marry if the marriage is not likely to last. The preliminaries of courtship, the gifts and attentions, the formal engagement and still more formal wedding—all these things presuppose lifelong monogamy, and no one would go through them for anything less. When they lead in fact to divorce proceedings a few years later, every one concerned feels duped. But a marriage that has come about with no greater exertion than is required to buy a packet of cigarettes can be broken up with no great heartburnings. The mere knowledge of the abundant waiting-list will in itself be an incentive to firm action.

That no one need despair, on mere grounds of age, of getting married has just been comfortably shown in Devon, where an Army pensioner of seventy-six is looking for a wife of at least seventy whose pension can be added to his own. The inmates of a Poor Law Institution are being paraded before him. Seventy has an appeal of its own, and the day draws near when pensions will loom larger among the elements of eligibility. Pensioners not only have imperishable dowries; they are also commonly quiet in their tastes. No one can read about modern divorce without feeling that to marry young is to invite trouble. It is said that a Detroit citizen is the latest husband to obtain a divorce for a reason which never occurred to Earl Learie of Mercia. His wife's falling came from the "strip poker," at which her enthusiasm outran her skill, until her husband grew weary of buying her fresh clothes to hide her losses.

Old wives, who do not even want to play strip poker, may well look best to the calm eyes of reason, wives who have passed through the fever of excitement and who are content to sit, fortified with modest pensions, hearing the tales their husbands choose to tell.

DRIVER WAS BLINDED BY SMOKE

Cause Of Mishap On Castle Peak
Road

CAR'S 30-FOOT
CRASH

A mysterious cloud of smoke which blinded the chauffeur caused yesterday's motor mishap which resulted in three people being severely injured.

The injured, who are in Kowloon Hospital, are:—

J. E. Barnes, manager of Calender's Cable and Construction Co., severe back injuries and abrasions.

C. H. Unbehau, general manager of Hume Pipe (Far East), Ltd., slight head and body injuries.

Cheung Kam, chauffeur, 28, of 143, Fa Yuen Street, serious head injuries.

Cheung recovered consciousness yesterday afternoon and was able to give the police slight information regarding the cause of the accident.

He said he was driving Mr. Unbehau and Mr. Barnes from Kowloon to the Hume Pipe factory at Tsun Wan along the Castle Peak Road and passed the nine milestone about 9.30 a.m.

Just after passing that point, he stated, he noticed smoke coming from the right hand side of the road but could not say to what it was due.

SMOKE IN FACE

At the same time a motor bus approached from the opposite direction and as it passed it caused a gust of wind which blew the smoke into his face and blinded him.

"I lost control of the car," said Cheung. "What happened afterwards I do not know for the next thing I realised was that I was being carried on a stretcher."

The driver of the motor bus, however, was able to fill in the blank.

He told the police that the car swerved over the side of the road, struck a tree and rolled down a steep 30-foot slope to the fore-shore.

The driver and passengers ran to the aid of the passengers and extricated them from the wreckage. They then notified the police and the ambulance.

About an hour later the wreckage of the car suddenly burst into flames. Mongkok fire brigade was notified but by the time it arrived the flames were almost extinguished and the car a total wreck. The vehicle was covered by insurance.

CONDITION OF INJURED

It was stated at Kowloon Hospital last night that although the three men had sustained multiple injuries and were seriously hurt, their condition was satisfactory and they were progressing as well as could be expected.

Mr. Barnes, who is still semi-conscious, is the most seriously hurt.

NUDIST MAGAZINE

In connection with the recent cases heard in Hongkong and Kowloon where certain books were confiscated, the Nudist Magazine was among those seized as indecent literature.

An order was made for the confiscation of all this kind of literature but we are informed that the Nudist Magazine is not included under this category. The Nudist Magazines that were seized have been returned to their owners.

MAHMOUD WINS DERBY
IN RECORD TIME

Aga Khan's Third Victory

FAVOURITE COMES FOURTH

His Highness the Aga Khan secured his third Derby triumph at Epsom Downs when Mahmoud ridden by Smirke won in record time from his stable companion Taj Akbar ridden by the champion jockey, Gordon Richards. Tommy Burns secured third place on Thankerton.

Lord Astor's Pay Up, the favourite, was fourth, while Noble King, Boswell and other hopes of punters were numbered among the "also rans." Couvert, according to Reuter's description of the race led the greater part of the way, but he was overtaken and Mahmoud challenged Thankerton to romp home by three lengths.

Lord Astor's Pay Up, the favourite, was fourth, while Noble King, Boswell and other hopes of punters were numbered among the "also rans." Couvert, according to Reuter's description of the race led the greater part of the way, but he was overtaken and Mahmoud challenged Thankerton to romp home by three lengths.

H.H. the Aga Khan won his first Derby with Blenheim in 1930 with H. Wragg in the saddle. The betting was 18 to 1. His second victory came last year with Bahram, at 5 to 4, ridden by Fox Bahram also won the 2000 Guineas and the St. Leger. The Aga Khan always has more than one hope, and on this occasion two of his horses secured first two places.

The weather at Epsom Downs was fine, but somewhat hazy and overcast. There was an immense crowd at Tattenham Corner, and 5,000 more people attended than last year.

The was a slight delay at the start, but the field got off very well.

THE RESULT

London, May 27.
Twenty two ran in the Derby at Epsom Downs to-day with the following result:—

Mahmoud (C. Smirke) 1
Taj Akbar (Gordon Richards) 2
Thankerton (Tommy Burns) 3
Mahmoud won by three lengths, while Taj Akbar passed the post three-quarter length ahead of Thankerton.

Betting: 100 to 8 Mahmoud, 6 to 1 Taj Akbar, 33 to 1 Thankerton.

RACE DESCRIBED

On settling down Carioca led from Barry Star, Pay Up, Midstream, Abjer, Couvert, Magnet and Noble King, with Mendicant Friar last.

After going the half mile, Carioca led Midstream, Pay Up, Magnet, Abjer, and Boswell, with Squadron Castle now last.

Coming down the hill Thankerton led from Bala Hissar, Pay Up and Boswell, and entering the straight Thankerton was three lengths clear, but below the distance post Mahmoud challenged and went in to lead, when Thankerton weakened.

Taj Akbar made a gallant effort to catch his stable companion, but Mahmoud held on to the lead to win easily and give H.H. the Aga Khan his third Derby.

Pay Up, 5 to 1 favourite, was fourth, His Grace, fifth, and Couvert last.

The time was 2 minutes 33-4/5 seconds, which was a record for the distance of 1 1/2 miles and five yards.

Mahmoud was the first grey to win since Tagalle in 1912 and the only third grey ever to win.

HAPPINESS ON BOARD THE QUEEN MARY Tweed Coats And Skirts For London Beauties PASSENGERS ON BOARD ENCHANTED In New York On Monday

London, May 27.

(Aboard the Queen Mary from Reuter's Special Correspondent)
"I never imagined there could be so much happiness among three thousand people all at once as there is to-night among the passengers and crew of this ship."
"The crew are openly jubilant, and the passengers enchanted by the page-boys and stewards in startlingly new uniforms who pounced upon our bags as soon as we came aboard and took charge of some of the smartest luggage I have ever seen, but then some of it contains evening dresses so smart that they are being taken to New York as the latest fashion."
"The passenger list is printed in gold and blue with a golden replica of the Queen Mary embossed on the cover which reads like the London gossip writers' dream of heaven."

"Tweed coats and skirts seem to be the favourite travelling wear for many London beauties aboard."
"To-night in the cinema, which in the event of fire would be flooded immediately with carbonic gas, we saw films not only of our departure but also the Derby, flown by special aeroplane to Cherbourg. During the voyage passengers will see all the latest films."
"All the officers emphasise that under no circumstances will any risk be taken to secure the Blue Riband. Everything depends on the weather."

"To break the record the Queen Mary must reach Ambrose Light at 6 o'clock on Monday morning, but Sir Edgar Britten, when questioned, invariably replied that he expects to be in New York at noon on Monday."

KING TO KEEP HIS PROMISETo Unveil Memorial On Vimy RidgeCANADIANS WHO FELL IN WAR

London, May 27.

In accordance with the promise made while he was Prince of Wales, King Edward, on the invitation of the Canadian Government, will unveil on July 26 a memorial on Vimy Ridge to the Canadians who fell in the Great War. At the King's request, the Premier made this statement in Ottawa.

It will be the first time that the King of England has left his own country for several years. His visit to France for the ceremony will be only of short duration, and it is possible he may proceed by air.

The memorial is dedicated to 12,000 Canadians who fell in the war, but who have no identifiable grave. Their names are engraved around the base of the memorial. This measures 237 feet long on which stand two main pylons each 138 feet high.

The structure weighs 30,000 tons and contains twenty figures each 12 feet high. It stands on Vimy Ridge, the capture of which was achieved by the Canadian forces in 240 acres of ground which the French Government have presented to Canada. This area has been cleared and planted with trees which give the memorial a beautiful setting. During night time it will remain floodlit.

President Lebrun and many other distinguished Frenchmen will meet the King for the ceremony and several thousands of Canadian ex-servicemen are to cross the Atlantic to be present at the unveiling.

Subjects

London, May 27.

The "Times" to-day foresees a miniature Imperial Conference in London, within the next few weeks, which it believes to be of particular value in the present juncture when the international situation necessitates Britain and the Dominions keeping in line.

Dr. Earl Page, Vice-Premier of Australia and Minister of Commerce, is at present in London. Mr. O. Pirow, Minister of Defence of South Africa, is at present en route here. The Canadian Prime Minister, Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, is coming to London next month. Mr. Walter Nash, Minister of Finance and Customs, is coming from New Zealand as soon as possible.

All are on their way to a conference to deal mainly with commercial matters, except Mr. Pirow, who will discuss problems in connection with communication and defence in South Africa.

The "Times" is certain the talks will cover the whole range of subjects, from foreign policy to defence communication and international trade.

TIN COMMITTEE
DECISIONQuota Postponement
Criticism

London, May 27.

The Tin Committee's postponement of the July-September quota decision until within a week of it becoming operative is generally criticised as handicapping producers and involving the market in further months of uncertainty during which consumers are likely to continue a hand-to-mouth policy.

The absence of a decision is also widely interpreted to indicate disagreement among the committee. It is believed that Bolivia, being a high cost producer is opposed to any quota increase as it is likely to result in a lower price, and insisted on being able to make up leeway in due course, while the Dutch also are unlikely to view a lower price level favourably unless a guilder devaluation occurs.

The latest figures, however, show the April exports from the restricting countries to be 11,444 tons compared to the permissible 12,172 with Bolivia only 2,388 from the allowance of 3,293 tons, thus disappointing hopes that a settlement of the currency problem would result in release of large Bolivian stocks previously held back.

Nevertheless the market expects the next visible supply to show an increase of about 1,000 tons, partly drawn from Eastern carry-over and partly due to slacker demand.

Reuter understands that the representatives who are going to Bangkok will be Lowinger and van Broek.

MOTOR WORKERS

FACTORY OCCUPIED

(Hong Kong Daily Press' Special)

Paris, May 27.

Having taken the precaution of bringing playing cards, gramophones and radios to pass the time, the striking workers of the Lavallete motor works at Stoum and the Newport Astra aeroplane factory at Adissy spent the night as agreeably as possible in the factory buildings of which they have taken possession since Tuesday.

The strikers demand a 40-hour week and a fortnight's holiday annually on full pay. At Adissy they threatened to destroy the machines and set fire to the buildings if any attempts were made to dislodge them. The factory owners then asked the police to refrain from interference.

The motor works of Hotchkiss in Levallois, Renault and Hispano Suiza in Stoum prevented the strike by immediately granting the demands of the workers, a fact which is hailed by the Marxist press as a "great proletarian victory."

The strike, spread to-day to a number of small factories and may, it is feared, eventually affect the whole French metal industry.

GUERRILLA WARFARE

Jerusalem, May 26.
The Arab "disturbances" in Palestine are increasing from day to day and have now taken the form of regular guerrilla warfare against the Mandate Government's police and troops. The whole of western Palestine from Haifa in the north to Nazareth in the east with Jerusalem and Gaza in the south is infested with armed bands who in the past two days have been attacking the police and soldiers from ambushes, cutting telephone wires, putting signals on the railway out of action. The centre of the revolt now appears to be shifted to Gaza where in addition to signals being damaged the railway lines were torn up on Tuesday, thus causing a suspension of this important section of the line providing the connection with Egypt.

In the streets of Gaza itself barricades have been erected and violent street-fighting has occurred between rioters and troops.

JERUSALEM QUIETER

In Jerusalem the conditions are now quieter thanks to the energetic measures taken by the authorities so that it has been possible to despatch troops and tanks to Gaza and other threatened towns, including Nablus where groups of Arabs are firing wildly at the military camps.

An audacious attempt to seize a Jewish steamer outside the three mile limit at Tel Aviv was made by Arabs who surrounded the steamer in boats and threw bombs at it. The police, however, raced out from Tel Aviv in fast motorboats in time to free the steamer from the attackers.

Any hopes that the Arabs may have entertained that the Mandatory Government might weaken, were squashed by a speech by the British High Commissioner Lord Wanchope on Tuesday at the Levant Fair in Tel Aviv, when he stated that neither strikes nor acts of violence would prevent the British decisions and obligations under the Mandate being carried out.

AUSTRIAN POLITICAL CONFUSIONCOMMUNIQUE ISSUED BY
"FRONT MILITIA"Invitation To Join New Organisation

"HOME GUARDS" SHOW FIGHT

(Hong Kong Daily Press' Special)

Vienna, May 27.

The confusion prevailing in the internal political situation in Austria is illustrated by the almost simultaneous publication of two communiques issued respectively by the Vice-Chancellor, Baar-Baarenfels, as leader of the "Front Militia," and by the press department of Prince Starhemberg's organisation, the "Home Guards."

In his communique which was sent out through a semi-official news agency, the Vice-Chancellor appealed to all members of the hitherto existing military formations to join the new organisation of volunteers, to be known as the "Front Militia," forthwith, and announced the appointment of Major General Puchmayr, as deputy leader of the Militia whose relations with the Federal Army, according to the communique, will henceforth be very close.

The Vice-Chancellor goes on to define the Militia's aim as a "struggle for a Christian German co-operative State."

Shortly after the Vice-Chancellor's appeal had been launched a statement by the "Home Guards" appeared in which the provisions of the new law incorporating all military bodies in the "Fatherland" front are completely ignored.

The statement goes on to announce that the organisation's staff will be transferred from Vienna to Linz and that the well-known Chancellor with Fascist ideas, Herr Wenninger, has been appointed Chief of Staff.

Political circles have so far failed to solve the mystery arising from the fact that the Vice-Chancellor is also one of the leaders of the "Home Guard."

MUI TSAI BILL IS OPPOSED

and another, so also there are great differences between one offender and another, and society has come more and more to recognize that it owes a duty not only to the common security but also to the individual offender himself. Society, after all, consists not of classes but of individuals, and it is the first and most elementary task in any adjudication to try an individual case upon its merits.

Nothing, it goes without saying, is more injurious to the public interest than the manufacture of criminals. What is not so generally recognized is, that there are few more effective ways of manufacturing criminals than to send young offenders unnecessarily to prison.

Grave indeed is the responsibility of those who, otherwise than in a case of clear necessity, send any youth or girl, or indeed any man or woman, to prison for the first time.

UNWARRANTED

Pausing here, I do respectfully desire to emphasize and underline the concluding sentence of the paragraph above set out. Time and again one sees in the local papers the case of a man or woman, without any criminal record and, indeed, hitherto a harmless and law-abiding citizen, being sentenced to a short term of imprisonment for a relatively trivial offence.

After pointing out that the criminal law of England already permits, and therefore encourages, certain alternatives in particular cases, the Lord Chief Justice proceeds to deal with the powers conferred by the Probation Act, 1907.

The first section of the Act 1907 manifestly invites that discrimination to which reference has been made. It provides that where any person is charged before a Court of summary jurisdiction with an offence punishable by that Court, and the Court thinks that the charge is proved, but is of opinion that, having regard to the character, antecedents, age, health or mental condition of the person charged, or to the trivial nature of the offence, or to the extenuating circumstances under which the offence was committed, it is inexpedient to inflict any punishment, or any other than a nominal punishment, or that it is expedient to release the offender on probation, the Court may, without proceeding to conviction, make an order either (1) dismissing the information or charge, or (2) discharging the offender conditionally on his entering into a recognizance, with or without sureties, to be of good behaviour and to appear for conviction and sentence when called on at any time during such period, not exceeding three years, as may be specified in the order. Now these are very remarkable and far-reaching powers, and the next subsection proceeds to confer them, with such minor changes as are necessary, upon Courts before whom any person has been convicted on indictment of any offence punishable with imprisonment. It may be doubted whether the full meaning of this provision has been universally, or even usually, appreciated and turned to account. Wide indeed is the range of the several and alternative matters which the legislature has deliberately invited the Court to consider for the purposes of the Act with regard to the defendant himself, (1) his character, (2) his antecedents, (3) his age, (4) his health, or (5) his mental condition; or, with regard to the offence, charged, the question whether it was or was not really of a trivial nature; or finally, any extenuation to be found in the circumstances in which the offence was committed.

After dealing with probationers and their duties the Lord Chief Justice proceeds as follows:—

But it may be convenient to state quite shortly certain propositions which seem to be reasonably clear, with reference to the actual working of the system of probation:

2. There is evidently in some quarters an impression that probation has nothing to say to cases which are not in themselves insignificant. But this view ignores the plain terms of the Statute. The "trivial nature of the offence" is only one among many of the alternative grounds to which the Court is empowered to have regard.

ACTUAL LAW

Parenthetically I do desire to remark that this impression, which the Lord Chief Justice criticises, appears to be actually the law of Hong Kong. As far as I know the only powers conferred on our Magistrates Ordinance 1932, which in terms limits such powers to a case in which "the offence was of a trivial nature" is in fact a case in which it is inexpedient to inflict any punishment, or any other than a nominal punishment. Under Section 30, no consideration can be given to the defendant himself, his character or his antecedents.

3. In 1923 rather more than 603,000 persons were tried in the Courts to which the Statute applies. Of this number, some 12,600 persons were placed on probation—that is to say, about 2 per cent.

Pausing here, may I enquire whether any statistics have been compiled, showing the number of persons who have been placed on probation in Hong Kong during any year? I hope that I may be entirely wrong, but my own regrettable impression is that the percentage is not 2 per cent, but something like .002 per cent!

JUVENILE COURTS

The Lord Chief Justice then proceeded to touch upon the work of Juvenile Courts (and here I desire, if I may, to express my humble admiration for the fine work which is being done locally by our kind and careful Chief Magistrate) of the Industrial School and of the Reformatory School, and concluded as follows:—

"These are good works. May they increase and succeed more and more. They make it plain that this country, at any rate, is rich in means, if they are faithfully employed, for helping those who have made a lapse and for forming or re-forming a character able to resist temptation and to avoid crime. Let us beware of any voices of indolence or of cynicism that might belittle these efforts or hamper their further development. Above all let us put aside the heresy that in some cases it may be right to consult the interests of the offender, while in other cases it is necessary to consult the interests of the public. Upon any fair analysis, those interests are found to coincide. The State may sometimes be compelled to be stern. It must not be cruel. It cannot afford to be indifferent. By all means let us keep alive the feeling of terror in the contemplation of serious crime and its punishment. But let us at the same time endeavour to resist the beginnings; let us not forget that more than half of the uncharitable judgments in the world are due to lack of imagination; and let us remain unalterably convinced that magnanimity owes to prudence no account of her motives."

My humble opinion is that the administration of the Criminal law is much more humane in England than in Hong Kong, and that legislation on the lines of the Probation Act 1907 is urgently called for.

Unless a case is made out for increasing the penalties under the Female Domestic Service Ordinance, and for the reasons I have indicated, I am opposed to increasing the powers of the magistrate under the Ordinance.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Honourable the Attorney General, in his Objects and Reasons, gives as the sole reasons the fact that certain provisions of the law regarding penalties in the Straits Settlements differ from our Ordinance, and the quotation of a somewhat cryptic sentence by the Rt. Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies. As regards the former I have no materials to judge how the Criminal law is administered in the Straits Settlements, and in particular how far the magistrates there do avail themselves of the powers, if any, conferred upon them to put first offenders on probation. As regards the quoted sentence by the Secretary of State, I have described it as being somewhat cryptic. He may have meant that he had found too many cases of prosecutions under Section 6 (which already confers powers of punishment), in which fines only were imposed, and accordingly expressed a wish that magistrates would more frequently exercise their power of imposing a prison sentence. On the other hand, he may have meant what the Honourable the Attorney General evidently took him to mean, namely, that the law should be altered so as to allow of the imposition of a sentence of imprisonment for other offences. I feel that we really do not know what the Secretary of State had in mind when he expressed himself as quoted. But in any case I desire most respectfully to add this, that if the Secretary of State advocates imprisonment merely as a general policy and by way of deterrent, then he has apparently ignored all consideration of this other relevant circumstances mentioned above from the point of view of the first offender. As far as I know, no magistrate in Hong Kong, in the course of the hearing of a case before him, has ever expressed the view that imposition of fines for offences other than against Section 6 is inadequate.

Now, what are the other "provisions" in respect of which it is now proposed to make the imposition of a prison sentence possible?

THE SUMMARY

So far as the Ordinance is concerned they may be summarised as follows:—

Sec. 4. Taking into employment a mul tsa.

Sec. 4A. Bringing into the Colony a mul tsa not previously here and not registered.

Sec. 5. Taking into employment a female domestic servant aged under ten years.

Sec. 9. (1) Transferring a mul tsa otherwise than on the death of an employer.

(2) Failing to report on becoming actual employer of a mul tsa on death of an employer.

Sec. 13. Having custody of an unregistered mul tsa.

Sec. 14. Having in employment an unregistered mul tsa.

Sec. 15. Having in employment a female domestic servant aged under 10 years.

So far as the Regulations are concerned they may be summarised as follows:—

Reg. 5. Failure to report death, disappearance or intended removal from the Colony or intended marriage of a mul tsa or to report change of address of the mul tsa or her employer.

Reg. 8. Failure to produce mul tsa when required by S. C. A.

Reg. 11. Failure to comply with the reasonable requirements of the Inspector.

PRISON TERM UNNECESSARY

With great respect I submit that offences against the above provisions are all of a quasi-criminal nature only, and that it is not necessary to impose a prison sentence.

I feel sure Your Excellency will gladly acknowledge that the Chinese community as a whole has loyally endeavoured to carry out the Female Domestic Service Ordinance as a matter of government policy. The Chinese accept as an accomplished fact the abolition of the Mul Tsa system in Hong Kong. But the basis of the Mul Tsa system as it has existed and exists in China for hundreds and hundreds of years is poverty. Bearing this in mind, and recalling the transitory nature of the Colony's population we should, I submit, be agreeably surprised that, relatively speaking, there are so few cases of infringing the Ordinance, and I do submit that it would be wrong to subject an offender to imprisonment in cases which do not involve any cruelty.

The Hong Kong Government Gazette of 8th May sets out the terms of reference of the Mul Tsa Commission. It is the duty of the Commission "to report to the Secretary of State for the Colonies on any legislative or other action which the Commissioners may consider practicable and desirable in relation to the Mul Tsa question." etc. Surely this "Council" should at least await the report of the Commissioners before taking any further action.

FURTHER PROGRESS MADE

In Lawn Bowls Championship

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Further matches were played off yesterday in the Open Pairs Lawn Bowls Championship and which resulted in several close finishes. The Omar brothers, A. M. and U. M. had a comparatively easy task against E. J. Edwards and B. E. Maughan on the Electric green and ran out easy winners by 35 shots to 7 after only 18 heads. At this stage it commenced to rain, and with the falling light making visibility poor the losers sportingly gave up the challenge.

I.R.C. PAIR LOSE

In the continued game between M. Y. Adal and A. R. Dallah against H. E. Strange and R. R. Wood which was continued on the 20th head with the score at 17 shots all, the latter pair won by 20 shots to 18. On the 20th head the Indian pair added one shot to their tally and on the final count Strange and Wood came in for their share of play and scored three shots to put the game on ice.

A REVERSE FOR THE INDIANS

The postponed game between S. M. Rumjahn and A. M. Wahab against R. G. Craig and E. C. Fincher was played off yesterday on the C.C.C. Green and resulted in a close win for the Indian pair by 21 shots to 19.

ANOTHER CLOSE TUSSELE

Playing on the Indian Recreation Club green W. Weir and T. Grimes beat H. F. Stoneham and M. J. Henderson by the score of 20 shots to 18. A four on the last head by the losers was of no avail, their opponents already being six shots in the lead on the 20th head.

UNFINISHED GAME

F. Cheesman and J. G. Jill met W. A. Walker and H. H. Rose at the Kowloon Dock Recreation Club green yesterday and were led by the latter pair on the 13th head by 11 shots in the Open Pairs tournament of the H.K. Lawn Bowls Association, when darkness prevented further play. The score actually in favour of Walker and Rose was 13 shots to four when play terminated. The game will be resumed from this point.

The leaders commenced strongly by registering a four and the next two heads saw them consolidate their position with two singles. Cheesman and Jill opened their scoring on the 4th head with a single. A three at the 10th saw Walker and Rose draw further ahead while four singles were also notched at the 6th, 7th, 11th and 12th heads. Cheesman and Jill

C.R.C.'S CONVINCING VICTORY

IN "B" DIVISION TENNIS LEAGUE

The C.R.C. "A" team inflicted a seven sets to two defeat on the Hong Kong Club yesterday at the Club ground. G. E. R. Divett and T. C. Monaghan and J. Rodger and D. B. Evans were the only two pairs to annex a set each from the Chinese Club. Both these sets were lost by Lee Tak-lam and Liang Sah-wah.

RESULTS

G. E. R. Divett and T. C. Monaghan (H.K.C.C.):
lost to Choi Ping-tan and Lai Chau-kyong 1-6 lost to Lee Yui-wing and Leung Ping-chui 2-8

COUNCIL MEETING YESTERDAY

Mr. A. T. B. Silva-Netto Is Sworn-In

DAY'S BUSINESS

Mr. A. T. B. Silva-Netto was sworn-in as a member of the Legislative Council yesterday in place of Mr. J. P. Braga, who is temporarily absent.

Those present at the meeting were:—

His Excellency the Governor, Brigadier H. Seth Smith, G.O.C., Mr. R. A. C. North (Colonial Secretary).

Mr. C. G. Alabaster (Attorney General).

Mr. W. J. Carle (Secretary for Chinese Affairs).

Mr. E. Taylor (Colonial Treasurer).

Mr. A. G. W. Tickle (Director of Public Works).

Dr. A. R. Wellington (Director of Medical and Sanitary Services).

Cdr. G. F. Hole (Harbour Master).

Mr. T. H. King (Inspector General of Police).

Sir Henry Pollock.

Mr. J. J. Paterson.

Mr. S. W. Tso.

Mr. W. H. Bell.

Mr. T. N. Chau.

Mr. M. K. Lo.

Mr. S. H. Dodwell.

Mr. A. T. B. Silva-Netto.

Mr. D. M. MacDougall (Deputy Clerk of Council).

OTHER BUSINESS

The Governor announced that the retirement of Sir William Shenton had left a vacancy on the Standing Orders Committee. This had been filled by Mr. Lo.

The report of the Finance Committee (No. 4) of May 13 was adopted.

The following bills were read for the first time:—

A Bill to amend the Marriage Ordinance, 1875.

A Bill to amend the protection of Women and Girls Ordinance, 1897.

Council adjourned until June 3.

HOME CRICKET RESULTS

London, May 20.

The following were the remaining results of the cricket matches concluded to-day:—

At Kettering, Somerset beat Northamptonshire by 10 wickets.

Somerset: 286 (Gimblett 139) and 34 for 0.

Northants: 139 (Hazell 6 for 60) and 157 (Hazell 8 for 79).

At Manchester, Lancashire took first innings points from Worcestershire.

Worcester: 292 and 288 for 8 dec. (Warne 115).

Lancashire: 332 (Addon 138) and 103 for 4.

At Nottingham, Nottingham took first innings points from Hampshire.

MUI TSAI BILL IS OPPOSED

ATTORNEY GENERAL

My honourable and learned friend Mr. M. K. Lo was good enough to furnish me with an advance copy of his speech in opposition to the second reading of this bill and I am glad to note that he realises that the effect of the amendment in the law proposed by this bill will not be the infliction of imprisonment in every case in which there has been a breach of the principal ordinance or of the regulations made thereunder, but that the magistrate will merely be given, in his discretion, the power to impose a prison sentence in any case in which he finds such a sentence to be merited.

The honourable and learned member has devoted four fifths of his eloquent address to a discussion of the merits of legislation on the lines of the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907. Legislation on those lines based on earlier English enactments, namely section 16 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, and section 1 of the Probation of First Offenders Act, 1887, are to be found in section 30 of the Magistrates Ordinance and section 96 of the Criminal Procedure Ordinance. The Hon. member's remarks would have been relevant had the question of amending either of these Ordinances been before this Council to-day.

UNCONVINCING ARGUMENT

But it is only in the final fifth of his eloquent speech, in arguing that no case for amendment of the Female Domestic Service Ordinance is made out, that the honourable and learned member has addressed himself, with any relevance, to the bill which we are now discussing. In this part of his speech, though he has been relevant, I submit he has been wholly unconvincing. Who can doubt that the Secretary of State after what he has said in Parliament is dissatisfied with the present condition of the principal Ordinance, No. 1 of 1923, as a deterrent?

That Ordinance definitely abolished for ever the taking of mul-tai into employment and the taking into employment of any female domestic servant under the age of 10. The amending Ordinance No. 22 of 1929 forbade the importation of mul-tai acquired elsewhere.

The rest of the ordinance and the regulations deal with the care and custody of those mul-tai who had been taken into service before the ordinance came into force and who, when registered, were permitted to remain in the families of their employers whilst they grew up. But that permission was conditional and was given out of consideration for the welfare of the mul-tai themselves, not out of any tender regard for those who employed them.

PRIMARY CONDITIONS

The primary condition was that these girls should not be over-worked or ill-treated, or be provided with food, clothing or medical attendance on a less generous scale than that which is provided for the daughters of the family. The other requirements have been summarised by the honourable and learned member. They are well-known to all Chinese in the Colony who have registered mul-tai in their families.

Breach of the conditions has been punished by fine since 1923. So far only gross cruelty has been punishable by imprisonment. It is proper, I submit, that all bad cases of breach of the Ordinance or Regulations should now be punishable here, as they are in the Straits Settlements, by a reasonable term of imprisonment.

The honourable and learned member has endeavoured to make light of the provisions of the Female Domestic Service Ordinance and of the regulations which he summarised by describing them, as being of a quasi-criminal nature only. But I submit, Sir, that every one of them has been carefully considered as being vitally necessary, particularly regulation No. 3 which requires the employer of a registered mul-tai to report her death, disappearance, removal or intended marriage. It is this regulation, more than any other, which prevents the sale of registered mul-tai by their employers.

HARD TO PROVE

Such sales are often difficult to prove; but proof of a breach of regulation No. 5 presents no difficulty and recourse can be had to this regulation in all cases where a sale is believed to have taken place.

It is common knowledge that many registered mul-tai are untraceable by the inspectors. It is otiose to suggest that such cases can be dealt with in accordance with the principles of the Probation of Offenders Act. Fines have not proved a deterrent or prevented the occasional disappearance or removal from inspection of a registered mul-tai and imprisonment for bad cases must be tried.

The Senior Chinese member my honourable and learned friend Dr. S. W. Tso has opposed the bill on other grounds.

In the first part of his speech he has dealt with the daily unrestricted flow of population to and from the Colony and contrasts it with conditions in Malaya where the population is more static. He pleads that mul-tai may be brought into the Colony by innocent and ignorant immigrants. This is no argument for refusing to arm the magistrates with the power to imprison persons who are not ignorant of the fact that mul-tai may not be brought here. Still less is it an argument in favour of saving from the risk of imprisonment the residents who keep registered mul-tai, whom he admits should know the law.

The magistrates have ample power to deal leniently with those who are really ignorant and can be trusted not to imprison these. But it is time that it should be known generally by would-be immigrants that the introduction of mul-tai into the Colony is as much against the law as the introduction of unlicensed arms, opium or dangerous drugs and will not be tolerated by the authorities.

NO POSTPONEMENT

At the end of his speech the Hon. Dr. Tso has suggested that this bill be postponed until after the receipt of the report of the Mui Tsai Commission. This suggestion has received consideration, but it is felt that it would be best to bring our existing mul-tai legislation into line with that of the Straits Settlements so that any suggestions the Commission may have to make for further safeguards may apply equally to both Colonies.

Those of our Chinese friends who are genuinely trying to comply with the law need suffer no anxiety that it will be administered harshly by persons unacquainted with their psychology, for not only are all our Magistrate Cadet Officers who understand Chinese, but there is also the additional express provision in section 19 of the principal Ordinance which ordains that no prosecution under it shall be commenced without the consent of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs.

The Hon. Mr. Chau has opposed this bill on the additional ground that I have misinterpreted what the Secretary for State has said. If I have erred then the whole Government has erred in the misinterpretation of the remarks.

THE GOVERNOR

The Governor said:—

There is very little that I can usefully add to the admirably clear and conclusive arguments with which my Honourable and learned colleague, the Attorney General, has met the points raised in opposition to this Bill.

There was however one passage in the speech of my Honourable friend Mr. Lo, which calls for response from me. He said that he felt sure that I would gladly acknowledge that the Chinese Community as a whole had loyally endeavoured to carry out the Female Domestic Servant Ordinance.

I do acknowledge this. Gentlemen, and very gladly and gratefully.

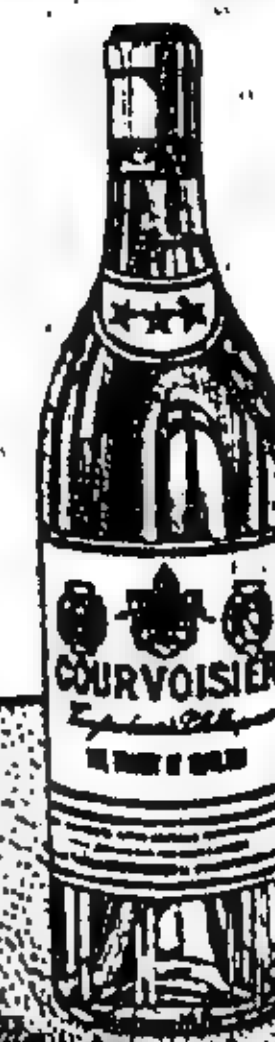

I will even go further and state my opinion that my Honourable friend has done unconscious injustice to an increasing number of his community in attributing the support given by the local Chinese to our Anti-Mui Tsai measures to a passive, negative submission to Government policy rather than to any positive conviction as to their essential rightness and necessity.

NO ABOLITION

My Honourable friend went on to say that the Chinese accept as an accomplished fact the abolition of the Mui Tsai system in Hong Kong. What, however, has actually been accomplished is statutory prohibition, and abolition can only be predicated when, looking back over a long period of years we are able to satisfy ourselves that the machinery of prohibition has been thoroughly effective.

After reading the reports on Mui Tsai cases week by week over the last six months I feel sure that there is at present one defect in that machinery. It does not enable the infliction of reasonable punishment on an offender who knowingly and wilfully flouts and disobeys clauses and regulations on which the whole efficacy of statutory prohibition depends.

I do not desire it to be understood that there is a very large number of such cases; since I came here six months ago there have, however, certainly been two in which the imposition of a fine was neither reasonably retributive nor adequately deterrent.

A SHORTCOMING

The coming of the Secretary of State's Commission had nothing to do with my consequent discovery (for to me it was a discovery) that our law here was not on all fours with that of the Straits.

I see no reason therefore to leave it to them to point out a shortcoming in past legislation which is quite manifest to myself and my advisers, and which can be remedied by the passage of this short Bill.

I commend it therefore to your support, and on resuming my seat I shall put to you the question of its second reading.

The second reading was then passed by 12 votes to four. The dissentients were Messrs. S. W. Tso, M. K. Lo, T. N. Chau and A. T. B. Silva-Netto.

In the committee stages Mr. Lo moved that the clause relating to imprisonment be amended by the addition of the words "In the case of a second or subsequent conviction." Mr. Tso seconded the amendment which was defeated by 12 votes to four.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

MESSRS. ROZA BROS.

Silver prices were lower yesterday to the extent of 1/16 for Ready and 1/8 for Forward, the quotation being 20 for both deliveries. Silver advices reported China and speculators as having sold. India bought. After the official fixing the market was easier with sellers at 1/16 and buyers at 1/8 under the quoted rate. In America the rate was unchanged at 44 3/4 for Spot.

The London-New York cross rate was higher at 4.98. The New York-London rate was the same.

MARKET

Steady but dull.

STERLING

A small business was done during the course of the morning at 1/3 9/16 for forward delivery. The market closed with small sellers at 1/3 9/16 for May-September and 1/3 17/32 for November-December, buyers at 1/3 19/32 for any delivery.

U.S. DOLLARS

No business was reported. There were sellers at 32 1/4 for near and probably forward, buyers at 32 5/16 for any delivery.

SHANGHAI DOLLARS

Nothing doing. There were sellers at 108 3/8 for cash, buyers at 108 1/2.

SHANGHAI MARKET

There were sellers of Sterling at 1/2 3/8 and U.S. Dollars at 29 13/16 for Spot.

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

(Hong Kong Daily Press) Special
 Berlin, May 26.

On the Sharemarket on Tuesday, the disposition to sell was stronger than to buy, this tendency being increased when the German Continental Gas Company, which had been expected to pay 7% dividend, announced that certain reservations for coming renewals would have to be made, so that only 5% were paid.

Fixed Interest Securities were firmer, State Loans being friendly. Call Money stood at 2%.—

IRAQI CUSTOMS MEASURE

Baghdad, May 16.

New customs regulations provide that Japanese piece goods cannot be cleared by Iraqi customs houses unless the importer can prove the export to Japan of Iraqi produce to the value of fifteen per cent. of the Japanese goods he desires to clear.

The proportion of Iraqi exports necessary will later be increased to 25 per cent.—

NEWS FROM THE WATERFRONT

Freight And Asiatic Passengers Returns

(BY LONGSHOREMAN).

The freight returns, received from the Harbour Office during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday, showed a very high tonnage movement, a large proportion of which being made up by British ships.

The total tonnage of general cargo carried by vessels to the Colony was 16,065 tons, with British steamers carrying 11,226 tons.

Through cargo for ports beyond the Colony amounted to 21,815 tons, of which 13,249 tons were carried by British steamers. Asiatic deck passengers entering into the Colony during the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday were 2,354, of which 1,422 were from British steamers.

There were altogether eighteen arrivals, of which eleven were of British registry, the remainder being of other nationalities, while of the 16 departures, eight were British ships, the rest being of other different countries. Particulars as follows:—

Nationality	Ships	Tonnage
British	11	24,475
Dutch	1	911
Norwegian	2	2,300
Japanese	3	9,970
Chinese	1	225
Total	18	37,881
